AREA: II - FACULTY

AACCUP Recommendations	Action Taken by Host/Program	Percentage of Compliance	Proof/Evidence
1. Incorporating values education in the courses will develop the student's sense of being morally upright, thus recommended.	- The faculty conducted a comprehensive review of the course syllabi to identify strategic entry points for the integration of values education and institutional core values. - The faculty successfully integrated specific values education components within the introductory section of the syllabus, establishing a moral and ethical foundation for the semester. - The institution's core values were explicitly embedded into the course orientation and syllabus.	100%
2. Packaging may be improved by weeding out documents not related to the program under survey and by providing evidence within the required time frame.	- The program task force conducted a systematic review of all folders and digital repositories to identify and remove documents that were irrelevant or unrelated to the specific program under survey. - The remaining documents were re-organized and "packaged" into clearly labeled sections, ensuring a logical flow that directly corresponds to the survey instruments and benchmarks.	100%	Newly packaged and organized documents

	The improved documentary packages were finalized for easy navigation by the survey team.
3. Faculty may conduct more research and present research outputs in prestigious national/international conferences/forums.	- Faculty submitted research papers for peer review to national and international conferences. - The paper got evaluated and issued formal letters of acceptance to the faculty. - Faculty successfully presented their research findings and outputs during the conference sessions.	100%	https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1h3aDq6aUkGoBkCnhILXfUAU3pkP2V_vA?usp=sharing
4. The faculty may publish research articles in prestigious peer-reviewed journals (e.g., CHED-recognized journals, Scopus/ISI-indexed journals/publications).	- The program identified a list of reputable Scopus-indexed, ISI-indexed, and CHED-recognized journals relevant to the marketing and business administration disciplines to serve as primary publication targets. - The institution provided technical and financial support for publication fees to encourage faculty to aim for high-tier publications.	100%	Published work/s of the faculty (Assoc. Prof. Altagracia Silaya)
5. The review of all IMs by the Instructional Materials Review Committee is recommended.	- The Instructional Materials Review Committee (IMRC) established a formal schedule and issued a call for the submission of all developed instructional materials (IMs) for comprehensive evaluation. - In response to the committee's call, faculty members submitted their prepared modules, workbooks, and digital learning materials to the IMRC for content and pedagogical review. - Upon successful review and verification of the materials' quality and relevance, the committee issued official Certificates of Utilization to the faculty members.	100%	https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1QkMZuyebSJnapYDveEL6lRJoflm14T69?usp=sharing
6. The academic department under survey may adopt the faculty members' regular loading based on the CMO to give the	The department conducted a thorough review of the relevant CHED Memorandum Orders (CMO) to determine the regular standard	100%	https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1LSBOIWkII-ovGJ0OOOCy-eeo1v7haUG?usp=sharing faculty members ample time to do research and extension activities.	- loading requirements for faculty members in the Business Administration program. - Based on the CMO guidelines, the administration adjusted the teaching assignments to ensure that faculty members are not overloaded, adhering to the prescribed number of contact hours per week. - The Dean and Department Head verified the final load assignments to ensure that every faculty member has "ample time" to fulfill their tripartite functions such as instruction, research, and extension without compromising academic quality.

7. Affiliation in professional/scientific societies with the university's financial support is encouraged to keep the faculty updated and establish professional linkages for possible research and extension partnerships.	- Utilizing institutional support, faculty members formalized their affiliations with key organizations and other relevant scientific bodies. - Through these affiliations, faculty attended national and international conferences, establishing vital linkages with experts and fellow researchers from other academic institutions.	100%	- Seminar Pictures (Boracay and Baguio Conference, Other F2f Seminars of Ma'm Grace or Ma'm Sarah) - Special Order? professionalism of the program under survey.	(regarding academic rank and employment status), alongside job satisfaction, performance levels, and professional conduct. • Prepared, validated, and administered localized survey instruments to systematically gather data and measure the specific satisfaction and performance indicators of the department's faculty line. • Presented the findings and data-driven recommendations of the study to the administration to serve as a baseline for future policy enhancements, faculty retention plans, and welfare programs.
10. It is highly suggested that items/plantilla positions be allotted/given to lecturers and part-timers of the BSBA Program, specifically those who already have master's or doctorate degrees.	• The administration actively invited qualified part-time and lecture-based faculty to apply for vacant plantilla positions. • Prioritized applicants hold Master's or Doctorate degrees to meet the program's academic standards. • The institution conducted a formal review and interview process to assess the candidates' eligibility and performance. • The institution officially hired and transitioned the qualified lecturers into permanent plantilla positions.	100%	https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1a-7iepflm4snXgnuJiOZZdiJ2p2DFI?usp=sharing
